

Our Earth Day Promise

Frances C. Smith School #50 promises to plant flowers to help feed butterflies and insects in our pollinator garden. We will also plant parsley to feed the Black Swallowtail caterpillar, supporting our New Jersey state butterfly, which goes by the scientific name of Papilio polyxenes. We will continue growing milkweed to feed Monarch caterpillars. We will also continue growing several potted herbs and vegetables in our eight raised garden beds, donating a portion of our harvest to a local church that feeds the hungry.
